I've worked closely with Anand and can confidently say he's someone you can always rely on. He has strong hands-on experience in AI, search, and GenAI, and what I really like is that he understands things end to end — from building the AI logic to wiring it up with the full stack and getting it to work in real systems.
He's a solid team player, calm, friendly person, always ready to help the team, and easy to work with.
